

The Worship Training Room

The purpose of the worship training room is to provide a place for parents to help their children learn to sit quietly through the worship service with the long-term hope that being able to sit through a service will help your child to join in the worship as they grow older.

You'll notice that this room doesn't have any toys. The toys have been removed as toys can distract kids and take away from your efforts to help them learn to sit quietly for a period of time.

If you find your child is not ready to go through this process we ask, for the sake of the parents trying to help their kids sit quietly, that you use the room across the hall where you will find items your child can play with.
